My dearest River, please - never think of yourself as less than beautiful - in character and view.
I ask gently of you - refrain yourself from doubting or being unsure.
I see you not as a maid - or myself as a lady - you're ~~but~~ my equal - in spirit and hope.
To see your eyes sparkle with joy and your smile radiant and true - that's my wish and nothing more.

As I seem to be at a loss of words, let me lend the help of a favorite master.

Attached you'll find a poem that expresses my feelings better than any rhyme
I am able to think of.

Yours truly, Skyler

To River

Had I the heaven's embroidered cloths, Enwrought with golden and silver light,
The blue and the dim and the dark cloths,
Of night and light and the half-light,
I would spread the cloths under your feet

But I, being poor, have only my dreams;
I have spread my dreams under your feet;
Tread softly because you tread on my dreams.

(W.B. Yeats)
